

FROM GIRLHOOD TO WOMANHOOD

Mothers Should Watch the Development of Their Daughters—
Interesting Experiences of Misses Borman and Mills.

MATILDA BORMAN

MYRTLE MILLS

Every mother possesses information which is of vital interest to her young daughter.

Too often this is never imparted or is withheld until serious harm has resulted to the growing girl through her ignorance of nature's mysterious and wonderful laws and penalties.

Girls' over-sensitiveness and modesty often puzzle their mothers and baffle physicians, as they so often withhold their confidence from their mothers and conceal the symptoms which ought to be told to their physician at this critical period.

When a girl's thoughts become sluggish, with headache, dizziness or a disposition to sleep, pains in back or lower limbs, eyes dim, desire for solitude; when she is a mystery to herself and friends, her mother should come to her aid, and remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will at this time prepare the system for the coming change, and start the menstrual period in a young girl's life without pain or irregularities.

Hundreds of letters from young girls and from mothers, expressing their gratitude for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has accomplished for them, have been received by the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., at Lynn, Mass.

Miss Mills has written the two following letters to Mrs. Pinkham, which will be read with interest:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— (First Letter.) "I am but fifteen years of age, am depressed, have dizzy spells, chills, headache and backache, and as I have heard that you can give helpful advice to girls in my condition, I am writing you."—Myrtle Mills, Oquawka, Ill.

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— (Second Letter.) "It is with the feeling of utmost gratitude that I write to you to tell you what your valuable medicine has done for me. When I wrote you in regard to my condition I had consulted several doctors, but they failed to understand my case and I did not receive any benefit from their treatment. I followed your advice, and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and am now healthy and well, and all the distressing symptoms which I had at that time have disappeared."—Myrtle Mills, Oquawka, Ill.

Miss Matilda Borman writes Mrs. Pinkham as follows:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— "Before taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound my months were irregular and painful, and I always had such dreadful headaches.

"But since taking the Compound my headaches have entirely left me, my months are regular, and I am getting strong and well. I am telling all my girl friends what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me."—Matilda Borman, Farmington, Iowa.

If you know of any young girl who is sick and needs motherly advice, ask her to address Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., and tell her every detail of her symptoms, and to keep nothing back. She will receive advice absolutely free, from a source that has no rival in the experience of women's ills, and will, if followed, put her on the right road to a strong, healthy and happy womanhood.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound holds the record for the greatest number of cures of female ills of any medicine that the world has ever known. Why don't you try it?

A Little Reply.
A girl in Gaylord, Kan., was told by one of her admirers that, if she didn't marry him, he'd get a rope and hang himself right in front of her house. "Oh, please don't do it, dear," she said, "you know father doesn't want you hanging around here."

One invention sometimes makes another necessary. A gramophone which can be heard a distance of three miles is the latest. Now, what is needed is a sound deadener with a three-mile range, to smother the noise of the gramophone.

CATARRH is the mother of CONSUMPTION.

They Met a Bear.
Ernest Orsborn and Bud Arnold, of Comptche, report one of the closest calls of the season in a bear fight. For some time a large bear has been bothering their stock, and they had made several ineffectual attempts to find Bruin, but could not locate him. This week they started out and got the track on Big River, near the Horse opening.

While they were waiting for the hounds and sitting comfortably on a log, something appeared behind them and knocked Orsborn's gun out of his hand. Before he had recovered from his surprise he was engaged in a hand-to-hand encounter with the bear, which had doubled on the dogs and come back on the hunters.

One blow of the bears paw broke the gun in two and bent the barrel. The fight was so fierce that Arnold had to wait several minutes before he dared to risk a shot, for fear of killing his companion. Orsborn finally begged him to shoot anyway, as he said he would rather be shot than killed by a bear. Fortunately Arnold was able to hit the bear, the bullet just grazing Orsborn's arm, and the combatants rolled over on the ground. The bear was one of the biggest ever killed in that section.—San Francisco Chronicle.

THE MISSING INGREDIENT.
"There ought to be a good deal of money in pork sausages like this," grumbled the regular patron, scowling at the mess on his plate.
"No, sir," responded the waiter, with a cheery, open faced smile; "but I guess it's got about everything else in it."—Chicago Tribune.

HIS PROGENITOR.
"Well," said Dumley, self-complacently, after his first after-dinner speech, "you didn't think I could speak, did you?"
"I confess," replied Knox, "that I can't think of anything so marvelous that has happened for years. Not since Balaam's time, in fact."—Philadelphia Press.

"Let the Men Cook."
A Virginia paper ventures the opinion that "lots of young girls who are devoting lots of time to music lessons will learn after marriage that cooking is a more valuable accomplishment than thumping a piano." Cooking? Not on your life. And not much piano playing, either. The dear girls will be in commercial life or on the vaudeville "stage." Let the men cook for themselves. All they're fit for.—Cincinnati Enquirer.
